

SUMMARY OF MEETING OF 14-01-15
1	Placemaking in Scotland Competition, exhibitions and awards event considered a great success. There were 40 applicants with 29 entries. The number of visitors at the awards event was 40+, visitors to the exhibitions at A+DS and the Lighthouse is not known but 36 voted in the Public vote. There was one commended entry from a public body. The video of the awards event is on the website and all entries will shortly be on the website. There are other plans to promote the entries. Although a number of people have suggested an annual competition organising the competition took a lot of time and the Committee decided that competitions should take place every two years. Thanks were given to Alan Cameron for all his excellent work in organising and running the competition.
2	Consideration is being given to an exhibition and an architect+landscape architect competition as part of the Festival of Architecture in 2016. A live project is also being considered,
3	The Public Sector Survey has had 45 responses. The survey took around 30 minutes to fill in a response with nearly all responses received by email. The survey has substantial qualitative data which requires to be carefully analysed. Thanks to all who took part. LIS is involvement with LI Public Sector Working Group and will report back via the Committee. The next surveys will be of the Private and then the Academic Sectors
4	The Committee expressed its desire to have the LI Rethinking Urban Landscape Exhibition in Scotland with it being displayed in suitable venues in Edinburgh, Glasgow and Dundee. The Committee would also like to add some work in Scotland either from information from the Placemaking in Scotland Competition or from a call for suitable material, the winners of the placemaking competition would be included.
